ADOPT CURFEW LAW BAPTIST'S PROGRAM

Common Council by a Vote of 7 to 4 Passes Ordinance Restricting Children's Hours on Streets. Now Goes To Aldermen.

A curfew law for this city was adopted by common council at a meeting held last night. The vote was 7 for it and 4 against it. It provides that it shall apply to children under the age of sixteen years. Between October and May 1, they are to turn into their homes by 7 p. m., and from May 1, to October 1, they may remain on the streets until 9:30 p. m.

For failure of the child to comply with the law the police may cite the child to appear in the police court, and the police justice may impose fines ranging from $1 to $5, or he may remit the fine.

It is, however, provided in the law that children, accompanied on the street by their parents after the curfew hours or those having a note from their parents, or those on emergency calls or those who are compelled to work at night will not be subject to the provisions of the ordinance.

Fifteen strokes of the fire engine bells shall be regarded as sufficient ringing to warn all children that the curfew is in operation.

Those voting for the ordinance were President Smith and Messrs. Burke, Ruben, Armstrong, Kaufmann, Wattles and Matter, and those against it were Messrs. Pohl, Gallagher, Lawler and Devers.

An ordinance to advertise for bids to grant a company permission to erect poles and string overhead cables, to furnish current to the railroad being constructed from Camp Humphreys to Mount Vernon, to connect with the line of the Washington and Virginia Railway Company, from Wythe and Royal streets down the east side of Royal street to the south side of King street to connect with the poles of the Washington-Virginia Railway Company and thence south on Royal street to the corporation line was referred to the joint committee on streets and general laws.

It is provided that the ordinance shall run for a period of thirty years and that the company may generate heat, light and power and also it is provided that if the wires or cables are ever placed underground the city shall bear the expense of same.

It was explained to the members of common council that this ordinance had passed the board of aldermen at the last meeting of that day.

Many of the councilmen thought the ordinance rather broad and were of the opinion that the city's interests should be better protected than provided for in the ordinance.

In the meantime the question of the railway company erecting a suitable waiting station at Spring Park was discussed. Councilmen who participated in the discussion regarding the granting of this franchise included President Smith and Messrs. Ruben, Lawler, Devers and Burke.

Resolutions appropriating the sum of $10,000 for sanitary work in the city came up and under the rules it could not be passed last night but was laid over until tonight when a special meeting will be held at 8:15 o'clock for the purpose of acting on the resolution.

Ordinance providing for disposal of waste matter etc., and fixing charges for its removal, was referred to the joint committee on health and general laws.

Resolution of Councilmen Devers that an ordinance be prepared providing for placing a traffic policeman at Duke street and Diagonal road, was referred to the police committee.

Resolution appropriating $50 for sewer in alley bounded by Fairfax, Royal, Wilkes and Gibson streets was referred to the street committee.

Ordinances were passed for giving deeds for certain lots in George Washington Park to Mrs. Augusta Rammell, Mrs. Lydia Spofford, Julian Y. Williams, H. Noel Garner and Mrs. Mamie C. Rishell.

The joint committee on finance and police made an adverse report on the petition of Chief of Police Goods and the members of the police force asking for an increase in salary and the report was adopted.

Ordinance for assisting property owners within the city in acquiring sanitary closets as provided by law was referred to the joint committee on general laws and health.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Motor trucks and passenger cars for use in the army have been standardized, the War Department announced yesterday and orders have been placed for 75,000 of all types. Four models of trucks, with carrying capacities ranging from 1 to 5 tons, have been determined upon as best for army use. Two models are commercial types, but the other two have been developed by army engineers.

Negotiations concerning the sinking by a German submarine last February of the Spanish steamship Sardinero, loaded with American grain for Switzerland, have been concluded. The German Government has expressed its regrets and has promised full restitution for the damage done by the submarine.

Circulars taken from captured Germans add proof to the belief that Germany is preparing for another war after a short respite. These official circulars, addressed to men and women who have taken part in charitable services, put this question to them: "Are you prepared to engage yourself from now on for the same service for the next war?"

During a violent thunderstorm that swept over Hagerstown, Md., and vicinity Wednesday evening, Russell Farling, 13 years old, an inmate of Quincy United Brethren Orphanage, was killed by lightning, his clothing being burned from his body. Three companions were rendered insensible by the same bolt.

Several epidemics are sweeping Germany in addition to influenza, according to an official dispatch received yesterday from Switzerland. Typhus is said to have appeared in epidemic form in Berlin. Malaria is reported in the Grand Duchy of Baden. The Neue Zurich, according to the dispatch, declares that the German censor has forbidden the publication of news on the increase of the influenza epidemic, although it is known that the disease has made serious ravages.

It is stated that a large number of deaths occurred in the great charity hospital in Berlin. The head physicians of the Bavarian army said to have reported that the health of the troops has been undermined by the epidemic. The largest number of deaths have occurred, the dispatch says, among troops in the interior.

The looting of food depots behind the German lines has become a very serious problem for the army commanders. In the back area where the men are training and resting, rations appear to be shut down to the minimum and are so poor that the troops are compelled by hunger to run the risk of the penalties imposed for looting. Many officers do not seem to be able to control the men guilty of these breaches of discipline, or else they fear that severe punishment will only cause the discontent manifest among the men to reach dangerous proportions.

Baron von Hussarek, former minister of education, has been appointed to the Austrian premiership, in succession to Dr. von Seydler, whose cabinet resigned recently. Before he was nominated, Prim Minister Baron von Hussarek explained to the chamber of deputies that he intended to form a cabinet of functionaries without political character, introducing parliamentarians into the ministry later.

After America enters the struggle, and in the reconstructed towns of France, little children learn the lessons of the war, and to reverse the name of Wilson. They recount France's ravaged cathedrals, the exiled Belgians, the treaty of Brussels, the Zeppelin raids, the bombing of school houses. These evidences of the nature of the Hun must be kept in mind—Lest We Forget.

The production will be presented again tonight.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mr. Steuarnagel.
On Monday July 15, there entered into eternal rest, a most beloved brother and uncle, William H. Steuarnagel.

After many years of suffering which he bore with Christian patience, he indeed lived to do good to others, was self-sacrificing, and charitable was his life throughout. His kind words of comfort will ever remain fresh in the memory of those to whom he was known; it can be truly said "Well done thou good and faithful servant receive the crown of life."

Among his loved ones he was always a comfort, his words of counsel and kind deeds will be missed by many.

Mr. Steuarnagel was manager of the Commonwealth Club in Richmond, which position he faithfully filled until his death.

He leaves to mourn his loss two sisters, Mrs. Martha R. Herforth of this city, and Mrs. Anna Appich of Richmond, nine nephews and six nieces. He lives where none do mourn and weep, and calmly shall his body sleep.

TEN WAR COMMANDMENTS FOR THE FRENCH PEOPLE—AND FOR OUR PEOPLE.

Paris, July 25.—The economic and social section of the League of Patriots, with headquarters in Paris, 4 Rue Ste. Anne, has distributed a leaflet, urging the French to endure without complaint the restrictions imposed upon them in the interest of the country. The following is a copy:

Do not forget that we are at war. In your smallest expenditures never lose sight of the interests of the native land.

Economize on the products necessary for the life of the country: coal, bread, meat, milk, sugar, wine, butter, beans, cloths, leather, oil. Accept rations. Ration yourself as to food, clothing, amusements.

Save the French soil, lest some day you deprive your father, your son, your husband, who are shedding their blood to defend you.

Save the products that France has just won from foreign countries. Do not drain reserves of gold, which are indispensable to victory.

Waste nothing. All waste is crime which imperils the national defense—prolongs the war.

Buy only according to your needs. Do not hoard provisions; your selfishness raises prices and deprives these of smaller means of things indispensable to existence.

Do not travel unnecessarily. Reflect that our trains are, before all, destined for the transportation of the troops, the feeding of the population, the needs of our national production.

Do not remain idle. According to your age and your ability, work for your country. Do not consume without producing. Idleness is desertion.

Accept without murmuring the privations which are imposed upon you. Reflect upon the sufferings of those who are fighting for you, upon the martyrdom of the population whose hearts have been devastated by the enemy.

Remember that victory belongs to those who can hold out a quarter of an hour the longest.

That France may live, she must be victorious.

A WONDERFUL PHOTOPLAY.

One of the best pictures that has been seen at the Richmond Theatre this year was shown last night. It was Metre's great 8-act special production of "Lest We Forget," a mighty arraignment of the Germans, starring beautiful Rite Jolivet, a daughter of France, and a survivor of the Lusitania disaster, to whom that well-loved American, Charles Frohman spoke his last immortal words, "Why fear death? Death is the most beautiful adventure of life." The picture provides a mighty panorama of events connected with the opening days of the war, and follow its progress through the latter thrilling months.

"Lest We Forget," shows far more of actual events, abroad during the great struggle of decency against barbarism than any one person, whether combatant or non-combatant, could possibly see. Besides being a great love story, it is a valuable chronicle of the war.

After America enters the struggle, and in the reconstructed towns of France, little children learn the lessons of the war, and to reverse the name of Wilson. They recount France's ravaged cathedrals, the exiled Belgians, the treaty of Brussels, the Zeppelin raids, the bombing of school houses. These evidences of the nature of the Hun must be kept in mind—Lest We Forget.

The production will be presented again tonight.

DANCE LAST NIGHT AT COMMISSARY DEPARTMENT VA. SHIPBUILDING CORPORATION.

A dance was given last night in the Commissary building at the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation which was attended by about 200 persons. The big hall was tastefully decorated with American flags and also posters on the shipbuilding work. Splendid music was furnished by an orchestra and all present greatly enjoyed the dance which was the first given under the auspices of the shipbuilding company.

PROPOSED CURFEW LAW.

As will be seen by the proceedings of the adjourned meeting of the Common Council last night that board has adopted the "ordinance to provide a curfew law for the city Alexandria, Va., to define the persons to be affected thereby and to impose a penalty for the violation thereof." The vote stood ayes 7, noes 4. The ordinance will now go to the Board of Aldermen, and should that branch of the City Council concur in the action of the lower board it will be submitted to the Mayor for his approval or disapproval.

Attempts have at times for many years been made by the legislative body of this city to prepare and pass what is known as a curfew law. Many reasons are urged why such a statute should be in the code, while objections to such a measure are also numerous.

Allowing boys and girls to prowl the streets after dark is hazardous, to say the least, for reasons which it is unnecessary to state, while at the same time in the twentieth century, while conditions are in no way similar to those in the days of William the Conqueror, the enforcement of a law which requires all children under the age of sixteen to be in the house at 7 o'clock p. m., will be found difficult.

At this time numbers of young people, some of whom have been made men and women in their childhood days by reason of being compelled to work here and there, anticipate the close of their day's labor that they may have liberty for a few hours before bedtime. Under this proposed law this class would be forced to remain within doors almost as soon as they shall have swallowed their suppers.

The ringing of bells to warn all such to enter their homes under pain of arrest would reproduce memories of ante bellum days in Alexandria when the night watchmen at 10 o'clock sounded their horns from a building which stood upon the site of the present Police Court room announcing that the time had come when all negroes, free of bond, must leave the streets.

The sound of the bells would also be suggestive of the time in British history when the Normans made the cities of England as quiet as church yards after a certain hour at night.

GERMAN HAUTEUR.

The following conversation is said to have taken place recently between a captured German officer and an Englishman:

"I do not wish to insult you," said the German, "but you English are well-intended fools. We who govern in Germany are not like you. We govern the fools; the fools govern you."

"Your principles are sweeping," replied the Briton. "To come down to practice, what have you to say about the guilt of beginning the war?"

"Guilty?" demanded the German; "it was a glory. I claim it for Germany."

"That is hardly your official view," "The official view is for the fools," "But you believe in the Prussian purpose behind all this?" asked the British officer.

"I do, as in nothing else," replied the German. "The Prussian purpose is God. There is no other. Prussia will rend the veil of the temple, but she will destroy to create. Against Prussian might the world as it exists today will fall in ruins, but Prussia will build a better and more virile world in its place. Strength only will survive. The life of men is naturally a fight. The strongest in force and cunning will live."

In the meantime conditions in Germany among her allies are proving more serious daily.

Bulgaria, facing starvation and ruin, may be the first of the central powers' alliance to desert Kaiser Wilhelm and his war. Recent dispatches show that internal conditions in Bulgaria are rapidly approaching a state similar to those in Germany and Austria—particularly Austria.

Hundreds of people are dying from starvation and disease. Outbreaks of the civilian population have been repressed by barbarous methods. Both the army and the people of Bulgaria are clamoring for peace. The army has been so weakened by deaths and desertions that the class of 1918 has been set into the first line trenches.

A correspondent contributes the following to a newspaper in a neighboring city:

The Marne—the river of Fate—relentlessly flowing to the sea, where the sun of Germany is seen descending below the horizon, dropping as it were, spurlo versenkt, in the deluge of blood in which she submerged the world.

Meanwhile the Ark of Freedom sails steadily on—she will reach Ararat—there will be another bow of promise in the heavens—its opposite ends will reach the earth—an earth forever redeemed from the curse of Germany—the curse of brute force!

ANOTHER SEDAN?

"Sedan," is the word on all lips, the picture in all minds at present. For unless a miracle happens Foch is about to do to the German Crown Prince's army what Moltke did to the French in that historic battle, which ended the Franco-Prussian war so ignominiously for France. He is in a fair way of doing what the little Moltke tried to do at the Marne four years ago, and what Ludendorff set out to do in his last drive.

Never has encirclement been so complete as it is now. The Crown Prince's army is like a dying man in his last hours. Every new contracting mile deprives it of breathing power.

Foch's infantry wall is closing in, slowly but steadily, threatening to crush the huge Teuton army in its clutch. With every hour their grip tightens. With every hour the Germans lose more maneuvering space. If the pressure keeps on there will be no room even for retreat.

Five hundred thousand Germans are in the death trap.

WORK OR FIGHT LAW.

Representatives from the five local exemption boards of Richmond, as well as the appeal agents of the government, held a special meeting this week for the purpose of instituting a vigorous campaign to enforce the "work or fight" regulations recently approved by Provost-Marshal-General Crowder.

On and after August 1, the young man in Richmond at present registered with the local boards in a deferred class, who is found to be idle or engaged in a nonproductive employment, will find himself inducted into the army without further ceremony. The enforcement of the anti-loafing law will be given into the hands of the police, and the representatives of the government in Richmond have the assurance of Mayor Ainslie that he is but awaiting their instructions to issue the orders for rounding up the loafers and nonproducers.

Action similar to that which has been taken in Richmond is expected to follow in all cities of the commonwealth.

Your Winter's Coal Supply

On account of rulings of the U. S. Fuel Administration, it seems doubtful if Virginia will receive sufficient anthracite coal to supply the demands. If present rulings are maintained, this shortage will be very great in Alexandria and we earnestly advise our customers to put in a reasonable amount of bituminous coal as a safeguard against a coal shortage next winter.

We are now securing some very fine bituminous coal which we believe will work in all characters of coal burners but the grate stoves.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Officials of the Baltimore and Ohio and the Cumberland Valley railroads and representatives of the Federal railroad administration held a conference in Winchester, Wednesday for the purpose of considering the matter of consolidating the two roads and operating them as one line at Winchester. It was learned that there is a probability of all the Cumberland Valley passenger trains running into Winchester over the Baltimore and Ohio tracks, making the latter's depot a union station. The Southern Railway Wednesday took over that portion of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between Harrisonburg and Lexington, and is now operating trains through from Washington to Lexington. The Baltimore and Ohio train service now extends only to Strasburg, 18 miles south of Winchester.

Beginning Saturday evening, August 3, any man in the uniform of the United States army, or marine corps can walk into any theater or motion picture house in Petersburg, on Saturdays between 6 and 7:30 p. m. free of charge. town from Camp Lee.

A campaign is being carried on throughout the State by the Mobby Memorial Association to raise a fund to erect an equestrian statue of Col. John S. Mobby. The monument is estimated to cost $10,000 to be executed on designs by a former member of the command, Herbert Barbee, of Luray.

The grand jury, which has been at work for five weeks investigating the affairs of the Hopewell administration, reported yesterday afternoon. The grand jury indicted Commissioner of Revenue I. M. Warren on four counts and recommended the removal from office of the city treasurer, superintendent of water works and city health officer. The member of the grand jury did not stop there, but they excoriated the entire City Council for its alleged extravagance in the use of city funds.

"There's the Telephone!"

Promptness in answering a telephone call is a mark of courtesy shown to the caller. It is also a help to the operator, for it enables her to complete the call and give her attention to others. Folks should answer calls promptly if only for a selfish reason, for sometimes the calling person gets tired of waiting—and "hangs up." Should this occur, don't blame the operator when she asks you to "Excuse it, please."

Richmond women and girl workers in the industrial world will shortly make the acquaintance of the trouserette. Two thousand female employees in the government powder packing plant at Seven Pines will wear them. The new plant, which will be opened in October, will be the first in Richmond to prescribe the trouserette garments. It is believed the idea will spread in Virginia to other industrial plants after the introduction at Seven Pines. In many cities thousands of girls and women employed at all manner or jobs have been wearing trouserettes for several months.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadowville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Pat. Hark, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would grip me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before."

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape."

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Theodore's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.
